The People (Represented by Courtenay Heading) v/s
Matt Hancock, David Ashford, Richard Renouf &
Henrietta Ewart

Convened as a lawfully recognised Common Law Court on the 1st September 2019, the Common Law Court dealt with the issue of unlawful vaccinations and the harm, loss and injury they cause.

In relation to the Plaintiffs case, Courtenay Heading presented his Statement of Claim on behalf of the people and gave evidence, this evidence included affidavits, information, paperwork and a power point presentation.

The Defendants having been served with a Court Summons, Court Information and a copy of the case against them (Statement of Claim), failed to appear. The Defendants failed to submit a written defense and failed to take up the opportunity of a Pre-Trial Conference, to resolve matters before the hearing.

After an extensive presentation, witness affidavits, supporting documents and an examination of the evidence, they Jury of twelve reasonably minded men and women returned the following verdicts.

In relation to the case of 'The People (Represented by Courtenay Heading) v/s Matt Hancock, David Ashford, Richard Renouf & Henrietta Ewart' and the request for Court Orders, all were granted.
